

UCHAP Core BMPs

- Maintain an accurate animal identification system and record all health events
- Minimize the risk of disease introduction when animals are purchased or re-entered the herd
- Prevent feces from being ingested, especially by young animals
- Ensure that equipment used with animals or their feed is clean
- Insist that all visitors and advisors have clean clothing, and disinfect their boots
- Manage manure to eliminate run-off
- Prevent antibiotic and chemical residues in milk and beef
- Ensure low-stress, comfortable cows

UCHAP gives thanks to the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets and Cornell University for their resources used in this program.